All coins have been classified by experts and while errors will be gladly corrected NO LOT MAY BE RETURNED WITHOUT WRITTEN PERMISSION. Request to return coins MUST BE MADE WITHIN THREE DAYS OF RECEIPT OF COINS. Gold coins cannot be returned from abroad until an import license is obtained. Returned American merchandise also needs import licenses.
2. All bids are to be by LOT as numbered in the catalogue. When identical bids are received, preference is given to earliest bidder.
3. This is a UNRESTRICTED PUBLIC AUCTION. All bids are entered as received and highest bidder will be the buyer. Mail bidders may feel free to submit any bid they wish and each lot will be purchased for such bidders at the next highest bid over room bidders.
4. Bidders must establish credit or have on deposit 25% of TOTAL bids.
5. All ACCOUNTS MUST BE SETTLED PROMPTLY IN U.S. FUNDS, or in other currencies if special arrangements have been made. We reserve the right to charge interest on overdue accounts.

9. All lots and coins are guaranteed to be genuine and as described by Mr. Hans Holzer, expert. Photographs are of the actual specimens put up for sale.
10. The buyer who acts as agent for third parties is the only person responsible for his purchases towards the auction house. Third parties refusing to accept coins from the agent are entirely the responsibility of the agent. 11. Lots purchased by floor buyers cannot be returned.
12. Minors' bids are not accepted.
13. In case of dispute the decision of the auctioneer is at all times final.

A Word from the Auctioneer

I consider it a great honor to have been entrusted by the Estate of Professor Mabbott with the sale at unrestricted public auction of his unique collection.

I, as auctioneer, have of course no control over the ultimate prices any lot may fetch in this sale, nor are the valuation guidelines furnished in this catalogue intended to be more than that. The executors of the estate gave instructions to sell the coins without restrictions, and this will be done.

I may only hope to redistribute these coins in the best possible way for all concerned, amongst whom, and not least of all, we find the collecting fraternity.

Hans M. F. Schulman.

MY FRIEND, PROFESSOR MABBOTT

I met Thomas Ollive Mabbott in 1938 and immediately realized that he was a learned man who knew the highways as well as the byways of numismatics and history as no other man I ever met.

Fortunately for me, he befriended me, and over the years we shared a common interest in searching out the unusual, the obscure yet significant detail, the puzzles and unresolved mysteries of history and the stories behind many an unnamed coin.

As a man, he was a non-conformist in the purest sense of the word; yet he acknowledged the sources whence factual information could be obtained and remained firmly anchored in solid research, at the same time rejecting the notion that all were known, and the frontiers of human knowledge no longer in need of redrawing.

Over the years, too, he has interpreted for me subjects far afield from numismatics or even history, for Thomas Mabbott was a true Renaissance man and his mind keenly interested in many unexplored subjects, even magic and parapsychology, which eventually became part of my professional work.

He had little patience for what today we call a put-on, false dignity or the kind of scholar who commits an error and can't admit it, the man who clings to outmoded beliefs for the sake of what we would now call The Establishment. To Thomas Mabbott only the truth made sense.

He and I edited the Numismatic Review, which we had founded together, for a number of years, and some of his most important articles have appeared therein.

He had a great affinity for the British Museum and often regretted no comparable institution existed in America. Consequently a large portion of his collection contains coins not listed in the authoritative British Museum Catalogues, in itself a sure sign of his quest for new and unpublished material.

In addition to his numismatic studies, his interest in rare prints and manuscripts, notably fifteenth-century block prints, Professor Mabbott was one of the world's leading experts on the works of Edgar Allan Poe.

"Among his immediate contemporaries he was without peer in the specialized knowledge of Poe's life and work," wrote Floyd Stovall and Clarenee Gohdes in their obituary in the Poe Newsletter.

As this is being written, Harvard University Press is readying publication of Poe's Complete Works, Volume I. This contains the poems as edited by Thomas Ollive Mabbott, the only volume he saw to its full completion before his untimely passing. However, other volumes were well along also and will be published in due time.

The Poe Newsletter sums up Professor Mabbott's imprint upon our time with these words —

"Mabbott's main characteristic was probably his enthusiasm — a word that comes etymologically with the meaning 'a god within'. He was a warm-hearted man, a benefactor of scholarship, and a person who really enjoyed learning for and in itself."

Vale!

Hans Holzer

[The following was written by Professor Mabbott himself in the Spring of 1968]

Thomas Ollive Mabbott

My interest in numismatics began about April 1907 shortly before my ninth birthday when I persuaded my mother to buy me a silver quarter real of Nicaragua. Soon afterwards we acquired two East Indian thick coppers — one square — and before long a Roman coin from David Proskey. I gathered the old coins from the family — a two-cent piece and a California gold quarter among them. From an unabridged Funk and Wagnall's Dictionary I taught myself Greek capital letters, and acquired a tetradrachm of Alexander the Great, which I could read.

Proskey thought I had the makings of a collector, and began to train me. He advised against collecting United States coins as already too costly, though he gave me a badly worn 1793 cent, but he approved of my gathering tokens and store cards. One of his maxims was, "The rare coin is the one you don't have." Another was, "Remember that because you read something in a book doesn't mean it's true" — a piece of advice that I think made me turn to a career as a scholar.

The first advice that "The rare coin is the one you do not have" was good sixty years ago. Today only an extremely wealthy man could hope to form a completely representative world collection, and of course to some extent I did specialize in ancient coins, but at least two thirds of my collection is of more recent date. Also I recall reading in a book by Louisa May Alcott of a lazy boy who did not weed his garden and had nothing to show his companions. I recall the thought that came into my head that a person who would not study weeds could not really understand the flowers. Hence, I did not neglect humbler items, and have been interested in good coins made of lead! Also I have never despised a coin only in fair condition if it was interesting in itself.

The second great numismatist who influenced me was Howland Wood, a man of widest interests and as keen on authenticity as Proskey. I met Wood when in high school and I owe much to him, although I never learned to read Arabic, his specialty.

Someone gave me Aunt Charlotte's History of Rome by Charlotte M. Yonge — so respected a scholar that Oxford gave her an honorary Master of Arts when women were not yet eligible for earned degrees. Also I visited museums in New York, and although my love of the Greeks has never waned, my interest has tended rather to the study of Roman Imperial history. Of course, I took Latin in school as required, but elected Greek, and at Columbia College majored in Classics. I had found the British Museum Catalogues of Greek coins, and recall that, seeing a suggestion box in the college library, as a freshman I put in a slip asking that Columbia complete its set. This may have surprised the librarian, Roger Howson, but he got the volumes needed.

Gradually I tried to build a set of the imperial family portraits from Rome itself, and to collect Greek Imperial coins. There is no end of collecting the latter, and no complete set can now be formed, but I have done quite well on the "Augusti" through Constantine.

In 1927 I visited the British Museum, and met G. F. Hill (with whom I had corresponded) at the "Medal Room." When I went in 1936 he was Sir George, and Director of the Museum.

Meanwhile, I took an interest in English poetry as well as American history — and in graduate school wrote on Edgar Allan Poe. (It wasn't such a change as might be thought because I collected old magazines with Poe contributions.) I had my Ph.D in 1923, and became an English professor at Northwestern in 1926. My full professorship came (at Hunter) in 1946, and I retired in 1966. I am now Visiting Professor of English at St. John's University.

Between 1920 and 1928 I collected little, but after my visit to England and my marriage in 1928 my interest returned. Mrs. Mabbott always encouraged my collecting, which has certainly been one of the great interests and satisfactions of my life as a scholar.

As a parting word I would like to say that although I once found a coin of an obscure rebel Bonosus in a junk box, friends are told that most of my good coins come from good collections through reliable dealers at fair prices.

FIRST SESSION — Friday, June 6, 1969 — 5-7 p. m.

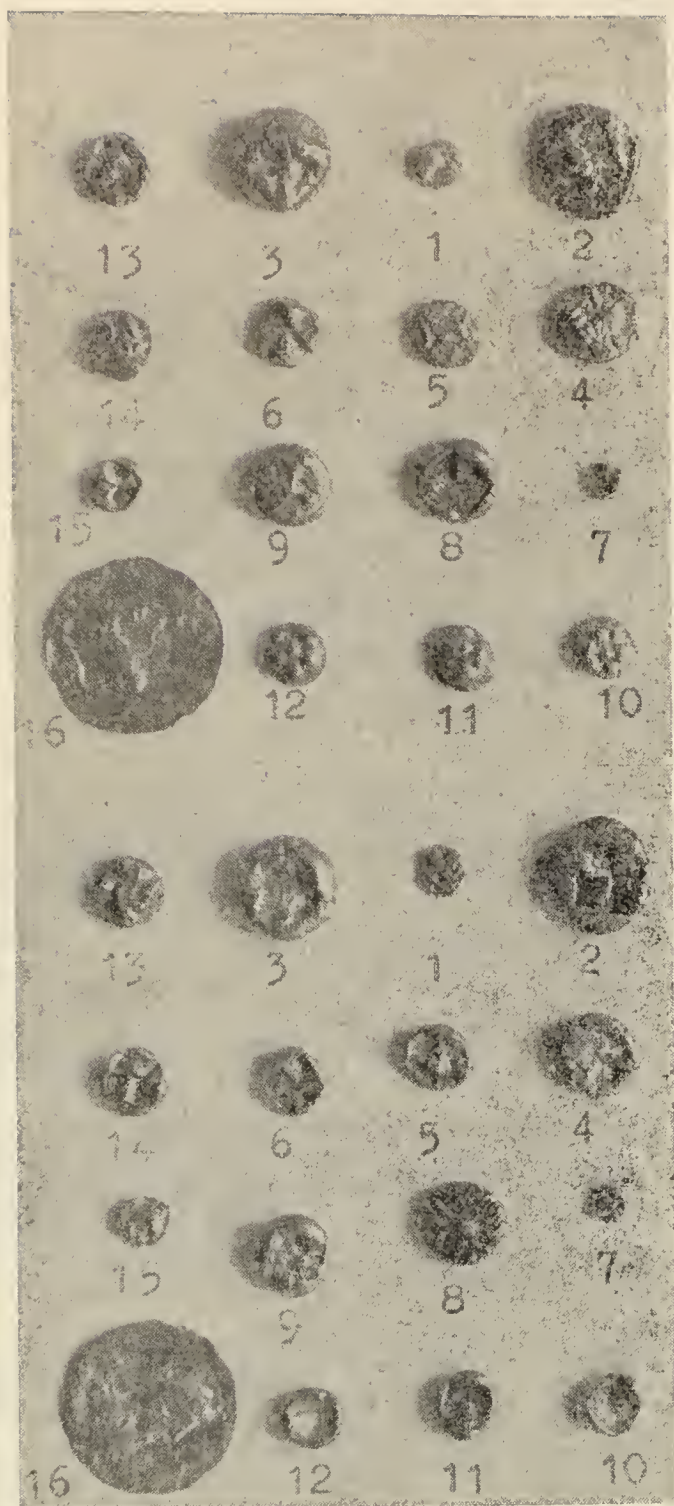

ANCIENT GOLD COINS HAVE BECOME RARER AND MORE DESIRABLE THAN EVER. NO GREAT NEW FINDS HAVE COME TO LIGHT IN RECENT YEARS. WORLD'S MOST IMPORTANT COLLECTION OF ANCIENT LEAD TESSERAE, TO BE SOLD INTACT.

T4 [In order to allow a major museum to acquire this unique collection, which took Professor Mabbott a lifetime to assemble, the entire collection will now be offered intact. It consists of the following collections acquired and absorbed into his cabinet by Professor Mabbott between 1925 and the 1960ies.]

1. A find acquired from David Prosky, prior to 1925.
2. The Feuardent collection, 1931-1932.
3. A small collection from Italy 1930, and six more, 1934.
4. The Webb collection, 1932.
5. Several from M. Tinchant, Brussels, 1932-1940.
6. Collection of 25 pieces from Cahn, Basle, 1953.
7. The Alcott collection.
8. The Rostowzew collection, together with M. Rostowzew's extremely rare works on the lead tesserae.
9. Professor Mabbott's own notes and observations, cards, etc.

[The 1610 pcs. in this collection range from the first to the fourth Century A.D. Many are of Egyptian or Eastern Roman origin, some are Roman Imperial proper, and a few are Byzantine. Sizes range from half of an inch to one inch in diameter, and no two pieces are alike. The state of preservation is generally fine, some are very fine, others are less than fine. The collection covers the commercial, religious and entertainment spheres of the ancient world as no other contemporary documents do, or can. The tesserae are laid out in small trays, for the greater part, and most are either labelled or referred to in the Rostowzew books which accompany this lot. This is, in my opinion, an object of major importance for the understanding of that period. H. H.]
 The Mabbott cabinet of lead tesserae.
 1610 pcs. and two books, notes, cards, etc. ($10,000.00)

[The Roman, the Medieval, and the more recent coins will be offered at auction in the autumn of 1982, in a separate catalogue.]
